

Small, is important.

Photo source: darthdowney

“Don’t go any closer. That lizard looks really scary,” Vicki told the others. “It’s a thorny devil and he eats ants. I’ve read about them. They just look that way to scare you off, but they are harmless. They don’t bite, just lick up ants with their tongues. They can eat 5,000 ants a day! And the spikes help collect dew and moisture from the sand and channel it to the corners of the thorny devil’s mouth so it can get a drink.”

Living in the desert means there isn’t much food or water around for thorny devils. They rely on very small things to stay alive – tiny ants and tiny amounts of water.

Listen to God! I kings 17:8-16

Where Elijah was living there was a drought. It was like being in a desert. The lady he visited only had a small amount of food left but she was willing to share it with him. Small things are very important. With God’s help, the small things we do can make a big difference.

Talk to God!

Dear God, your book the Bible tells us about lots of small things that are important to you. Thank you that I am important to you and the things I do are important to you.

Answer the following questions –

What did Elijah ask for? _____ & _____

What did the lady have? _____ & _____

What did Elijah promise? _____

Who do you think made that happen? _____

How many ants are there on this page for the thorny devil to eat? _____

Binara, the nosy frilled neck lizard, wants to know what you will do to be a help to someone this week?

